

Thursday Show Will Feature Gateway Singers, Prof. Corey

21 Plus Club Sponsors Show Thursday for Jim Garner

Two top acts from San Francisco's bohemian night spot, the "hungry i," will appear here next Thursday in the CA Auditorium between 12 noon and 1 p.m. in a benefit drive show sponsored by the Twenty-One Plus Club for State student Jim Garner.

Proceeds of the afternoon performance will go toward Jim's $1800 bill which has mounted during the past year as need for a pint of plasma a day continued for the 26 year old hemophiliac.

Headlining the show will be Professor Corey and the Gateway Singers, whose services have been donated by Enrico Banducci, owner of the "hungry i."

Professor Corey, billed as "The World's Foremost Authority," bases his act on a satire of college professors. The "professor" has appeared recently at the London Palladium, The Palmer House in Chicago, and the Las Vegas Thunderbird Hotel.

The Gateway Singers, folksong quartet, accompany themselves with base, banjo, and guitar. Members of the singing foursome are Jimmy Wood, Lou Gottlieb, Elmerlee Thomas, and Jerry Walter.

Serving as usherettes will be five finalists in the Homecoming Queen contest who will be presented on stage during the performance.

Ticket sales began yesterday and will continue until the day of the show. They are being sold throughout the campus by members of the Twenty-One Plus Club and will be sold at the door of the auditorium before the performance.

Panel Discusses Education Nov. 17

"What are the schools doing to my child" will be the subject of the Scholarship Fund Programs' discussion scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 17 at 8 p.m. in the Science Building, Room 101.

The program will be a serious consideration on the part of three panel members, of the principle criticisms and charges leveled against the methods and content of teaching in elementary and secondary schools of today.

Members of the panel are: Doctors Edith Merritt, Robert Smith, and Constance McCullough.

In the course of their treatment of criticisms the panel will explain, to the extent possible within the time allotment, the philosophy of education underlying training of teachers and processes of learning.

This subject has been selected because of the numerous recent charges made against modern education in books, notably Professor Bestons' "The Education Wastelands."

Pease Cites Lack Of Spirit On Campus to B of D

Possible solutions to the present problem of school spirit and cheerleading will be discussed at a meeting scheduled for next Tuesday, Nov. 15 at 1 p.m. according to Jack Pease, head cheerleader.

The meeting, to be held in Hut T-1, will be attended by special committees from the Board of Directors, rally committee and the Music Department.

Concerning what he termed "in my eyes, a deplorable situation," Pease, appeared before the Board of Directors last week.

Pease presented his problems to the Board: the "lack of spirit on the campus," especially at football games, and the recent letters of complaint appearing in the Golden Gater concerning cheerleading.

Pease offered reasons to the Board which he feels have contributed to the hostile attitude of some student body members.

Highlighting the problems which Pease cited were: 1) he has come into a "long established regime" of cheerleaders to which the students of this college were accustomed (the previous cheerleader held office for three years); 2) he has come from the east coast where the style of cheerleading is different; and 3) there is "no tradition" on this campus.

Pease offered to the Board the two alternatives which he is considering. "I would resign and lose my self-respect and condemn myself to martyrdom or stay and try to improve the situation. Frankly, I'm wondering if it's worth it."

He cited two recent football games at which persons from the stands led yells in a comical manner and received much more backing and spirit than the elected cheerleaders. "I refuse to go comic," he said, "If it comes to that, I'd rather give the whole mess up."

One member of the Board offered the suggestion that Pease have an open meeting with the college student leaders to discuss and possibly reach some conclusions to the situation.

Pease, in thanking the Board, stated, "I appreciate your understanding. I now feel I'm not alone in these ideas."

The Board, which received Pease sympathetically, thanked him for appearing before them and for his "realistic view of the problem at hand."

Andre Previn Trio Stars in Concert Today

Andre Previn, noted pianist and composer, will appear on campus today at 1 p.m. in the Creative Arts Auditorium.

Previn, who recently completed the writing and composing for the new MGM musical, "Kismet," will divide his concert into two sections.

The first half will feature Previn as solo pianist playing and commenting on the works of 20th century composers such as Ravel, Hindemith, and Samuel Barber.

The second half will feature the Previn jazz trio in a demonstration of how modern classical music ties in with modern jazz. The trio consists of Previn, Carson Smith, bass, and Gene Gammags, drums.

Betty Bennett, recording artist for Atlantic Records, will be vocalist for the afternoon performance.

Proceeds from the concert will go to the student welfare fund drive. Admission will be 75 cents for students, $1.50 general.

The concert is the second in a series of concerts presented by the Associated Students, which is attempting to bring well-known names in jazz to SF State for campus concerts.

Charley Stern, Bay Area orchestra leader, who is assisting with the present jazz series, will act as master of ceremonies.

Bill Plumb Named Main Narrator of Franciscan Disc

Ron Maldonado, director of the yearbook record, "The Franciscan In Sound," announced that the three judges' final decision for narrator of the record was Bill Plumb.

The judges were Dr. Fenton McKenna of the Creative Arts department, Mr. Ray Doyle, and Dr. Dave Parker of the Television-Radio department.

Because of the difficulty in selecting the narrator, it was decided by the judges to conduct a run-off audition. The four top finalists were Harry Raybold, Jack Mortimer, Gill Boucher, and Bill Plumb.

The 1956 "Franciscan In Sound" will be edited and written by Rene Cardenas. The record purpose is to give the San Francisco State student body an audio memento of its activities.

Ron Maldonado stated that the theme of the record will stress "Your Activity and your groups' functions. This is YOUR record."

The staff feels that the 1956 version of "The Franciscan In Sound" shows greater promise because of the better cooperation and because of the experience gained from last year's production.

Last year's record was one of five records submitted in a contest held at the College of Mexico City. The other records were submitted by Stanford University, UCLA, USC, Texas A & M, and Mexico City College.

Of these entries, the submission from San Francisco State College was selected by a judging board as being outstanding.

Ron Maldonado emphasized that the success of the record was made possible because "of the wonderful cooperation received from the Television-Radio Guild, and that the same spirit will certainly be indicative of the future success of the record."

Big Bonfire Rally To Precede Homecoming

By Gerry Limbaugh

Concerts, contest, floats, parades, a bonfire rally, and a nine-foot alligator—all these and even more will highlight the annual Homecoming Week next Monday through Friday.

Homecoming is the pet project of the Activities Commission with many on-campus organizations sponsoring special activities, or just helping out in general.

The week's first activity is a concert by the SF State Symphonic Band. The concert's location will depend upon the weather.

Wednesday, the five queen candidates will be introduced on Dottie Hansen's TV show, "Hi-Time," at 7:30 p.m., channel 7.

Following the Garner Fund Drive on Thursday, a luncheon in the banquet room is scheduled to decide the Homecoming Queen. Judges are Dottie Hansen, Don Sherwood, Jack Kendree, Joe Verducci, Jackie Jensen, Vince Rafello, and Art Rosenbaum.

SF State's nine-foot alligator, complete with new collar and muzzle, will appear on Don Sherwood's program, "San Francisco Tonight," 10:30-11:30 p.m., channel 7. Alligator sitters, Vince Rafello, Bernie Johnson, Ralph Delbuccia, and Stan Kroner will accompany the alligator, which stays in the SF aquarium when not acting as mascot.

The bonfire rally, Thursday night, will probably draw the largest crowd, aside from the football game with Cal Poly.

The wood contest, with all campus organizations eligible to enter, is the bonfire's source. The group gathering the biggest pile will receive a prize. To discourage too much wood-gathering exuberance, Charlie Mahnken, head of the bonfire committee, warns, "no wood must be taken from housing projects."

The main feature of the bonfire rally will be the crowning of the Homecoming Queen by Larry Conover, recently elected "King of the Campus."

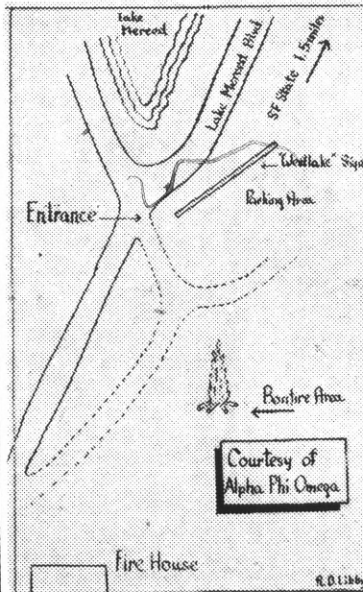

Patsy Speer, national baton twirling champion, the AFROTC Band, a half hour variety show, State's football team, coach Joe Verducci, songs, yells, dancing, pom-pom girls, and Clyde Pound's six piece jazz band will provide entertainment for the 3000 spectators expected at the rally.

Acting emcees are Pete Garret, director of City College's variety shows; Dick Laine; Jack Pease; and Don Caldwell, entertainment director of last year's campus shows for servicemen.

Climaxing Homecoming Week is the car and float parade to the Homecoming Game with Cal Poly.

Half time will feature the queens in 1956 Cadillac convertibles, floats, the AFROTC Band, and drill team and card stunts under the direction of Betty Armand.

Following the game, the AS-SFSC, Block "S," Phi Epsilon Sorority, and the Activities Commission will join forces to present a dance in the Women's Gym.

Bonfire rally site is midway from "Westlake" sign and parking area on Lake Merced Boulevard and Westlake Fire House.

Head basketball coach Dan Farmer was very pleased with the unusual turnout, but said that there are many positions to be filled because many players on last year's team have graduated. Farmer went on to urge any man interested in trying out for the team to see him immediately.

Last year State won the Far Western Conference, and since they are defending champions they have an exceedingly tough schedule for the coming season. The team may of its star players of last year, Bob Liebe and Henry Ford who both scored over 500 points apiece.

The season's opener will be played against Moffett Field on the campus, Dec. 2. On Dec. 6, the Alligators will play the University of San Francisco, the nation's number one team.

The Junior Varsity will be coached by Vic Rowen, who noted several prospects for the coming season with the help of Dick Killaney, Vic Gipson, Milt Garfield, Dan Daniels, and Jim Mosely.

Letters to the Editor

Yesterday I saw "Jazz SF State." I was slightly disappointed, not at the performers, they were great, but at the programmers. A short intermission would be sufficient to let students leave to go to class rather than being forced to get up and leave while somebody is on.

Another gripe is that performers should know how much time is granted them before they go on, so that someone doesn't come out on stage and tell them they have no time left.

One of my biggest gripes was when the "Accidentals" were on. This is one of the greatest singing groups I've heard in quite a while, but when they were on, the greatest misfortune I ever saw happened.

They turned on the house lights and had to the audience got up and went to class. I'm not saying students shouldn't go to class, I'm just saying that a school with Radio and TV, money running around ought to be using them once in a while. And if they were, I would have given them an "F" for the day. My only hope is that they improve.

I distributed music major Harry "Bud" Sherman.
